

He can differentiate between original and counterfeit currency. One cannot escape death. Wealth cannot save man from death. Man can never forget memories of his childhood. Pious man cannot disobey God. No general can impose martial law. Cherished memories can never be forgotten. God cannot be forgotten. Every man cannot be trusted. Original and counterfeit currency can be differentiated. Martial law can no longer be imposed in Pakistan.

America could not know whereabouts of Mullah Omar. None could reason with Hitler. Bush could have not toppled Taliban regime without help of Pakistan.

The U.S. could have not betrayed us.
America could have not won Vietnam war. Afghanistan could have simply not been occupied. All human beings cannot be put on right path.

No general will be able to impose martial law. Pakistan will not be able to pay last tranche. Politicians will be unable to betray people. Even this tranche of loan will not be able to bolster flagging economy. Defaulters will not be able to travel abroad.

Will Supreme Court be able to impose its verdict? America will be unable to ignore Pakistan anytime.

Europe will not be able to forget the Muslims. Inept rulers will be able to do nothing for people.

They may have perhaps solved all sums.
He may perhaps come. He may seldom come. They may perhaps be angry earlier but now they are pleased. You may make phone call according to balance. Minors may go on tour by per- mission of parents. May you succeed.
May Pakistan make progress. May you live long. Can little children solve sums of matriculation? May boys ask teacher solution to a few sums? Can teacher solve all sums? Life is that as it may be, we have to lead it carefully. Questions were just that as they might be, you were bound to attempt them. Human beings are that as they may be, we are bound to live with them. If people are braving load shedding govt may brave as well.

He was too glum to sleep. Offer was too attractive to confuse us. Youth is too unwise to take right decision.

Man is too impulsive to wait for adequate time. Fairytales are too interesting to seem contrived.

Clairvoyant leaders are too aware to connive at their mistakes.

Authorities are too callous to feel for people. The Taliban proved too inelastic to go with flow. Man is too selfish to buttress justice.

Woman is too important in society to be ignored. Some philosophies are too strong to be rejected. Some women are too talkative to be argued with. Life sometimes gets too weird to be understood. Matter got too complex to be settled. Some children are too recalcitrant to be reasoned with. Question was too tough to be attempted in half an hour.

Paper was too lengthy to be resolved in appropriate time. Hitler proved too stubborn to be halted by any power. Saint is too upright to be suspected. Saint is too upright to be suspected by anyone. Some vehicles are too dear to be bought by millionaire even. Movie was too interesting to be left midway. Movie was too interesting to be left midway by them. Clairvoyant leaders are too conscious to be misled. Clairvoyant leaders are too conscious to be misled by anyone.

Country is important enough to be showered life on. Children are precious enough to be devoted life. Europe was foolish enough to fight two world wars. Questions are not easy enough to be solved by everyone. English is not easy enough to be learnt in two months. Wealth is not so important that man should relinquish all comforts for it. Life is not so cheap as to be sacrificed by youths for the sake of love.

KEY PAGE EIGHT: COL THREE

Having explained his viewpoint, he fell silent. Having presented his problem, he started to wait for reply. Having done virtue, you should thank God. Having said this, he kept laughing. Having listened my issue, he issued order promptly. Having read this, I sent my reply at once. Having offered prayer, we ought to thank God. Having spoken truth, we sometimes get trapped. Having woken early in the morning, kids spruce up themselves. By resigning himself to oppression, man becomes accomplice of devil. Parents cannot help covering up follies of their children. In many hard times, we cannot help quibbling with God.

Pious man cannot help remembering God every moment. We cannot help praising good deed of foe even.

Heroin addict cannot help taking two doses a day. Opposition cannot help criticizing government policies.

Europe cannot help repenting of waging first and second world wars.

Do you do something these days? Do kids do homework daily? Children do not do homework daily. Does she do shopping every Sunday? What do you do in the morning? Did everyone do homework? Everyone did not do homework. Did rulers do something for people? Does man remember God?

Do all human beings remember God? Does every man remember God?

Does every man beg pardon of God?

Does God forgive every man? Did God forgive all human beings? Did man do something for God? Did all human beings do something for God?

Did man do something for mankind?

Did all human beings do something for God? God did a lot for mankind.

Even lawyers do not lie always. God does not punish every sinner. Woman does not trust man. Woman never trusts man. Does America consider Pakistan its satellite state? Why does America antagonize the Muslims? When does virtue dominate evil? Why do the powerful forget God? Where does the UN deploy its peace force? Which sums puzzle boys? Who did Europe support?
